OPTIONS NOW AVAILABLE

Dual Runway Avoidance and Advisory System (RAAS)

Honeywell's revolutionary RAAS system enhances situational awareness on both the ground and in the air. Dual RAAS capability is offered to ensure system redundancy for the RAAS heads-up aural advisory system in the unlikely event of a failure.

RAAS features

- Contains expansive airport runway database
- Selectable heads-up voice advisories
- Customizable volume advisories to match aircraft and operating environment

RAAS benefits

- Enhances situational awareness
- Reduces pilot workload
- Direct pilot advisories

Extended Frequency Range Radios

The extended frequency range radio option increases radio capability to remote locations throughout the world.

- Extended frequency can be implemented in the Nav-Comm radio or in all three communications radios on board the aircraft.

Worldwide customer support

Honeywell's avionics are based on proven technology providing exceptionally high reliability and simplified maintenance. Our product support services include regularly scheduled maintenance and pilot training courses. When service is needed, our customer support engineers and service centers are located around the world to provide efficient, responsive support.
